DAVID SORENSON USES A SHOTGUN TO END HIS LIFE

David Sorenson, 39 years of age, committed suicide this morning at the home of his father, Carl Sorenson, 2707 Jefferson avenue, by leaning his head over the muzzle of a loaded automatic shotgun and discharging the weapon, by pressing on the trigger with a broomstick. The tragedy occurred about 7 o'clock, but was not discovered until nearly an hour later, when the father, who is deaf, went into the basement of his home and found the body of his son. The body was removed to the Lindquist mortuary.

The dead man was born in Ogden, March 2, 1876, and had lived here all his life. For a number of years he was employed as a mail carrier, but four years ago was compelled to retire from his position on account of ill health. His condition since that time seemed to grow worse and this is thought to have been the cause of his rash act. This morning he had partly dressed and gone into the basement of his father's home, where he also resided, taking the shotgun with him. A large and ragged hole recently made in a piece of pottery led the officers to believe that he had tried the gun to see if it was in working condition. Judging from the position in which the body was found, with the gun and a broomstick lying by it—the composition shoulder rest on the gun being broken as from an impact with the hard clay floor—the officers are of the opinion that he next stood the butt of the gun on the floor, leaned his chin on it and pushed the trigger with the broomstick. Two empty shells, newly discharged, were found in the gun and from the big hole in the dead man's chin and neck, the undertaker was inclined to believe that both found their mark there.

The father did not hear the shots, but not finding the son in his accustomed place when ready for the morning meal, went to look for him. Discovering the tragedy, he informed Joseph Wallace, a neighbor and the latter notified the police. T. Samuel Browning, city commissioner of public safety, and George Browning, other neighbors were also notified and, with Sergeant H. C. Peterson and Chauffeur Guy Nelson, of the police department, investigated. There was no attempt to the removal of the body to the mortuary.

In addition to his aged father, the deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. Theresa Ganser of Salt Lake City, and two brothers, Charles and Hans, of Idaho. They have been notified of the death of their brother and the funeral announcements will be made after they are heard from.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably ninety per cent of the cases of stomach trouble. Medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.—Advertisement.

PANTAGES VAUDEVILLE

At The Orpheum Tomorrow.

With the ushering in of Pantages Vaudeville into the Orpheum again, Manager Goss looks for standing room only at the opening bill which begins tomorrow matinee and runs the three days. An excellent bill has been selected for the opening show with Margaret Whitney's big act "The Shadow Girl" as the feature act. Mr. Pantages has jumped this act with its eleven people from Los Angeles direct to Ogden to headline the bill. This little operetta is a chuck full of bright comedy, catchy music and dances, not to mention the eight Salt Lake beauties that go to make up the chorus. Five other excellent acts support the headliner. Maurice Downey in an excellent comedy playlet, Bigelow, Campbell and Rayden, the Rastellier Trio, Miss Edith Helena, the lady with the highest soprano voice in the world, Neuss and Eldrid, in The Karykyn Guardsman, offer a knockabout comedy turn that is a scream, and Parsons and Parsons, in Kid Comedy, with the Pathe News, complete the excellent bill. The matinee tomorrow begins at 3 p. m.—Advertisement.

Tells Bachelors How to Choose a Wife

Six hundred bachelors spent their luncheon hour the other day receiving "fatherly" advice from Professor Winfield S. Hall of Northwestern University Medical School on "Choosing a Wife," says the Chicago Herald.

"Imagine the girls of your acquaintance lined up before you, and the possible six to twenty girls you are to choose a wife. Which one will you choose?"

"Four things must be considered—her health, her hereditary qualities, her education and her age. Exclude from the ranks the girl of poor health. It's a calamity for a man to marry such a girl."

"Don't marry a girl just because she has a pretty figure and large, lustrous eyes and is a beautiful dancer. If at 20 she has only the mind of a girl of 12 years old."

"Don't marry an heiress—one with more than $15,000 or $20,000. You may become unhappy with her and her money."

"Don't marry into a family where there are traces of insanity or feeble-mindedness."

"Avoid the daughter of a confirmed alcoholic."

"Don't marry a girl just because she knows Latin and Greek. It is nothing against her if she has had a college education, provided she knows how to cook meals, make clothes and care for children."

"According to the best scientific research, these figures show the relative ages at which men and women should marry."

"A man of 21 should marry a girl between 19 and 23 years."

"At 25, one between 21 and 27."

"At 30, one between 23 and 29."

"At 35, one between 25 and 33."

"At 40, one between 25 and 35."

"At 45, one between 25 and 35."

"At 50, one between 40 and 50."

"At 60, one between 45 and 60."

"At 70, one between 50 and 60."

"At 80, one between 60 and 70."

"When a man gets to be 50 years old, he should not expect to rear a family. I advise such a man to marry a widow with several children."

"When a man of 60 or more marries it is only for the purpose of having a nurse during his declining years."

It is unfair for him to marry any one younger than himself. He should marry a childless widow or an old maid."

Social aspirations and financial ambition the theme of "The Climbers" tonight and Thursday at the Ogden Theater.

ARRANGING FOR THE AUTO PARADE ON SEPT. 24

Ballot boxes for the Fashion Show Queen contest to the number of 20 or more were placed in the drug stores, theaters, fraternal lodge rooms and clubs of the city this afternoon and it is expected that the nominations for queen will begin to come in this evening. Voting coupons appear today for the first time, in the local newspapers, together with nomination blanks and these mediums of distributing the votes will be the principal ones utilized, although others may be arranged for later.

The Fashion Show headquarters at the Weber club is now one of the busiest places in the city, with the secretary of the executive committee and a special stenographer working steadily in getting out correspondence and attending to special out-of-town publicity work, under the direction of the publicity committee.

One important matter that has been consummated within the last day or two is that of locating a place where the prospective participants in the automobile parade can procure materials for decorating their cars at wholesale prices. The success of the committee in this regard has been announced to nearly 800 local automobile owners through the following letter, mailed from the Fashion Show headquarters:

"Dear Sir:—One of the big features of Ogden's Fourth Annual Fashion Show will be the electrical Automobile parade Friday evening, September 24th. The business men of Ogden ask your assistance. Will you have your car decorated and appear in the parade? It is very important to the success of this event, and suitable prizes will be offered.

"The committee has made arrangements with the Artificial Flower Shop, with headquarters in the old Examiner Office on Hudson avenue, to furnish decorations at wholesale prices. They agree to decorate the larger sized cars for $10 each, Ford $7.50; the material to be paid for extra.

"There will also be an industrial parade on Saturday morning. It is expected that the industrial institutions of the city will be well represented on this occasion.

"It is important that the committee be advised as soon as possible concerning entries in these parades, and we, therefore, ask that you return enclosed postal at your earliest convenience.

"Trusting we may hear from you favorably at an early date. Yours for a greater Ogden. (Signed) FASHION SHOW PARADE COMMITTEE, A. B. Canfield, Chairman."

The cost of making a nomination has been set by the committee at $1, and the coupon carries with it 200 votes for the nominee. The first of these appears in today's issue of both local papers and are only good for nominating a queen. Here appended is the chance to nominate your favorite, and you can also add the five votes on the coupon below it to help her chances. So get busy and make the contest interesting.
